 MITCHELL & SHAEFFER

The Mobile Comedy Combination.

As will be seen from the advertisement elsewhere, Mr. DeLeon has yielded to popular pressure and consented to give three more performances in Columbus; the last we may expect until next winter. Tonight the Company will give (by request) the beautiful and amusing play, "Still Waters Run Deep," so admirably played here on their last visit; and this time it will be supplemented by Mr. Frank Wright's original farce, "Chiselling," a piece we hear of as irresistible in its laugh provoking qualities.

Of the performances of this combination since our last issue we have no space to speak as they deserve. On Monday "Delicate Ground," a beautiful French comedietta, was the first piece; Mr. DeLeon and Miss Kennedy sustaining the principal roles as Columbus has been taught to expect from these conscientious actors; but Mr. Wright made far less of the really good part of Alphonse than we had supposed possible for this really capable comedian. The great comedy, "Everybody's Friend," followed; Mr. Huntley taking the philanthropic Featherly off so naturally as to make all sympathize with his mishaps. As Mrs. Swansdown, Miss Florence Kennedy added another fragrant flower to the wreath of triumph Columbus has woven for her brow. That even the cold ice-cream loved so lovable a lady was but natural. As for De Leon, we can sincerely commend Mr. Wright's assumption of a part associated only with the names of those greatest in comedy. It was unctious, absurd and yet correct; and the applause and laughter of the audience throughout marked it a hit. Miss Nellie Wright, always sweet and sympathetic, was specially so as the wronged wife; and Mr. Hogan, volunteering for the part at short notice, made Trap a strong feature of the play.

On Tuesday evening, "My Uncle's Will" opened the bill, and the very perfection of refined humor was shown by all the actors in the play. Miss Kennedy as Miss Marigold, Mr. Huntley as her father, and Mr. Hogan as the scheming grandfather, were so perfectly natural and so drawing-room-like in their acting as to call forth laughter and applause in such proportions as rarely come from a Columbus audience.

"Caste," a touching while laughable comedy of English life, was then played with perhaps greater satisfaction and amusement to the spectators than any piece yet given here. Every part in the large list of characters was well filled; Mr. Huntley's Dalroy, Mr. DeLeon's Hawtree and Mr. Williams' Sam attracting equal commendation. Miss Nellie Wright as Kelly was winning and jolly; Mr. Wright's Eccles was broadly comic and very taking; while Mr. Hogan and Miss Shreve made the small parts of the Marquis and his wife stand out boldly. But to Miss Florence Kennedy belongs the greenest palm. Old critics in the audience declare her Esther equal to any ever seen in New York; and her splendid acting over the cradle of her child, the reading of her friend's letter and the magnificent return of the lost husband were simply electrifying.

Last night the great play of "Rip Van Winkle" was given. We go to press too early for details; but we can not but pause to say that such a performance as Mr. Huntley's Rip has never been seen here, and that he was admirably supported by the entire company.

We rejoice in the general call which has delayed the departure of this company; and bespeak a full house for their plays this evening.

Death of a Centenarian.

Aunt Rose, a colored woman who was once the slave of Mr. J. C. Ramsey, died in Columbus on Sunday. We are informed that she was a hundred years old, but it is not said that she was one of Washington's family servants.

Personal.

We are much pleased to meet in the city Mr. Jere Horn, who visits us in the interests of the Meridian Mercury, one of the newest, most enterprising journals in the South. We heard a newspaper man say, on Saturday, that the Mercury is the best paper in the State; indeed, it is an excellent journal and we hope Mr. Horn will get a large number of subscribers in our city.

Philharmonic Society.

Owing to sickness and the absence of some of the active members of the Society there will be no rehearsal to-night. The Chapel of the Columbus Female Institute has been furnished with seats, piano, &c., and all arrangements made for a series of public rehearsals and the subscribers are assured that so soon as a programme can be prepared, they will be furnished with an entertainment equal to any heretofore given by the Society. Due notice will be given of the first public rehearsal.

Death by Kerosene.

On Thursday of last week, a child of Perry Richardson, colored, who lives in the eastern portion of the city, tried to kindle a fire by pouring kerosene on it from a large can. The can exploded and scattered the burning oil over another child, three years old, which was sitting near the hearth. The little thing was terribly burned and died the next day.

Mr. Reub. Wilford, an old and experienced printer, has bought the Columbus Tri-weekly Democrat, and will hereafter conduct it solely in the interest of Columbus. He contemplates converting it into a daily in September. We notice that the name of Mr. W. C. Worthington remains as editor, which is a sufficient guarantee of the paper's politics.

We wish our friends to read success, which we are confident they will deserve.

The Bribery of the Lieutenant-Governor.

The papers say that Col. W. E. Gibbs in regard to his complicity in the bribery of A. K. Davis, the negro Lieutenant-Governor. We learn that Col. Gibbs, who is in Texas, has spoken. A letter received from a gentleman in Texas says that Col. Gibbs does not deny having paid Davis the money for pardoning Parrenette, but says that what he has done, he would do for any other friend.

We take pleasure in presenting to our readers, this morning, the law card of Maj. E. R. Bliss, who is rapidly making a name for himself as one of the ablest attorneys in our section. A graceful and fluent speaker, having a vigorous style, and possessed with an extensive knowledge of the law, he is sure to attain that success which he merits.

We passed through the prairies west of town on Monday, and the crops were looking exceedingly promising. No rain was needed and the hands were busy giving cotton its last ploughing. Corn was the only cereal we saw.

Thermometer 93 degrees in the shade. Mercantile business dull. Crops as promising as the farmers and planters desire. The corn crop well made and reported to be a two years supply. Some say that the cotton has little fruit on the stalk. Hence there are fears of a short crop. No signs of caterpillars yet, but should they come in the next two weeks great damage will be done.

We invite our friends in the country to come to the city prepared to lay in a supply of Spring goods, cheap for cash at our house.

GENERAL NEWS.

Beecher's popularity has immensely increased, particularly with men's wives.

Robt. Dale Owen, the celebrated spiritualist who was deceived by Katie King, is dead.

A. H. Stephens made a "spread-eagle" 4th of July speech in Atlanta.

The Fourth was splendidly celebrated in Richmond, Augusta and Philadelphia.

In a railroad collision near Ft. Rockaway, near New York City, twelve persons were killed and twenty-six wounded, several fatally.

St. Louis, July 8.—The overflow of the Charitan river has filled the streets of East St. Louis with water, and flooded the track of the Missouri Railroad for miles. Great damage has been done by the flood, which far exceeds that of 1844.

The railroad debt of the United States is $1,700,000,000 of which one-third is worthless. The capital invested in the railroads of this country amounts to $4,000,000,000, one half of which has paid no interest on the money invested since 1873, and never will pay dividends again.—N. O. Times.

Resolutions by Lowndes County Grange.

Whereas, We recognize in the Mercantile Agency of J. E. Sharp, at Columbus, all the advantages of a Co-operative Grange Store, and as a purchasing agency and exchange depot for country produce a most efficient and valuable aid to the farming community.

Be it Resolved, That we recommend and urge upon all Patrons the policy of giving his enterprise an earnest and cordial support, to more fully develop this powerful auxiliary in the interests of agriculturists.

Jas. C. Neilson, Minister.

H. D. Foor, Sec'y pro tem.

We see something said in the Macon Beacon about a farmer turning his hens into his out-field to make them lay. We have always been surprised that farmers did not plant rye patches especially for their hens.

Plant rye in December, turn your hens upon it in February, and you will have young chickens in March; we have tried it and we raised more chickens than any body else in Quitman county, Ga.

Carroll's Conservative: We are authorized to announce Benjamin Roach as a candidate for Circuit Clerk, at the ensuing general election.

Is the Roach family going to intrude themselves into everything? They already fill all the "vacancies" in this county. But as Ben is a new species of the Roach family may the election show that he is the "cock" of the walk and may Ben-jam-in.

ALABAMA NEWS.
